The Cannon Foundation is an independent foundation established in 1943 by Charles A. Cannon, President and Chairman of Cannon Mills Company for more than 50 years. Focused primarily on North Carolina, this endowed Foundation accepts unsolicited requests for grants, primarily for capital projects and equipment.

Charles A. Cannon was an industry giant, yet he remained invested in his community in every sense of the word. He was first and always concerned with the health and welfare of his employees. Mr. Cannon built a remarkable record of personal philanthropy. His philanthropic vision is reflected in the projects undertaken by the Cannon Charitable Interests in the areas of healthcare, education, public service and community.

We are grateful to The Cannon Foundation because with this $75,000 grant and the funds raised through Project Panda Bear, we were able to purchase 11 new Panda Infant Warmers.

The hospital celebrated a very special arrival earlier this month ... 11 new panda infant warmers! This special delivery was made possible by the OMH Foundation through its annual fundraiser and a $75,000 grant from the Cannon Foundation.

The Panda® Warmers, located in Labor and Delivery Unit, Nursery and OR, keep our newborns warm and comfy. The new Panda Infant Warmers have the latest technology and special features so our newborns can be quickly and easily assessed and back into their mother's arms faster.

The unit has an innovative recessed heater to help maintain a safe and comfortable temperature for baby. It also has a built-in scale and easy x-ray shelf simplifying the weighing and x-ray procedures while keeping the baby warm and calm. Sometimes simple assessments and weight checks can be stressful for our preemie and high risk babies, who do better in a quiet, calm and warm environment.

"This will have a huge impact on the youngest members of our community!" said Lee Ann Thomas, executive director of the OMH Foundation. "Thank you again to all of the individuals, businesses, physicians, OMH employees, and volunteers that helped us far surpass our goal for Disco Fever. We couldn't have done it without you."
